

YOEMEN IN CRUCIAL GAME FRIDAY

"You Can't Eat Your Cake and Have It Too"

Hubert Harrison in "East Texas" says:

The burden of taxes has become so great that it is the chief concern and handicap of business men today. Expenses of Government—National, State and local—threaten to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. There is a limit to the taxes that business can pay and continue to make a profit necessary to exist.

As a people we are guilty of inconsistency in voting for new and expensive services of Government without adequate provision for paying the bill. Many of the new social welfare measures are, no doubt, very noble and fine, but deficits are running into the millions in the State and into billions in the Nation.

Chambers of Commerce have been guilty of condemning new taxes and appointing committees to secure plums from the Government at the same meeting. On one occasion a committee of prominent men from a large Texas city went to Austin to oppose a new tax and on the same trip they did a little log-rolling for a special appropriation for their city. Recently at the same meeting of the city council in an East Texas city, one committee condemned high taxes and another committee asked the council to start a municipal band.

Our excuse for this attitude has been that "the money is going to be spent so we might as well get ours." This unsound financial program must stop sometime. We cannot go on supporting beautiful and impractical theories of different organized groups in their raids on the treasury and expect to escape new and heavier taxes. We cannot keep asking new services of Government without paying the bill. There is no magic in gifts from Government.

Let's stop asking and begin paying what we owe.

Let business have a chance.

We are apt to be severe in dealing with our public representatives. When they do not levy taxes for our benefit we say they are lousy arbiters of the public destiny. If they do not cut down the costs of government they are traitors to the country.

Under the influence of Washington we have gone far off the beaten path. Government had always been an unwelcome intrusion in the lives of the American people until the New Deal awakened a dangerous desire to level out the wealth of the country. We are now witnessing the masses taking over the government to make of it an economic instrument for private sustenance.

We are underwriting the economic status of the individual with tax money and industrial tolls. That's the theory and practice of Social Democracy.

The Washington government now plans permanent control of industry, agriculture and all phases of economic life. In truth the day of regimentation is at hand. Business everywhere knows that unless we are led out of such a destiny, property rights will fade from the picture.

Recently 125,000 people voted Billions on Texas tax payers for three additional group beneficiaries. The average citizen gave no thought to the consequences of this adventure. All they seem to under take is to push along the program by their votes, leaving the ultimate and inevitable, in the hands of the New Order of Statesmen.

The Texas Senate may show more sense than the people. Let it be remembered the August vote asked for more money. How can it be raised without taxes? By cutting down the costs of government? No! The people have by their votes set up the most elaborate system of public patronage in the history of any government. Getting on the pay roll has become the great American pastime.

If the law makers fail to provide the money to pay us for something we have not earned, we will give them hell. If they tax us we will give them more of it. The best way to stop taxes for individual support and all waste is to put the burden on those who get these benefits. As long as the tax is on the other fellow we want bigger and better levies. Raise the money, but don't tax us.

L. C. WOOD

Coach Wood who leads his Yoemen against Taylor Friday night in the first crucial game of the season, has consulted a specialist regarding throat ailment. Hemorrhages have occurred frequently over a week and some alarm was felt, but he told friends Wednesday he felt improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hugh Walker and little son, Ronald Hugh, of Cleveland spent the week end at Ben Arnold and Cameron with friends and relatives.

Considerable speculation was manifested among owners and prospective buyers over the pace setter for American automobile sales.

Chas. F. Green's Store Celebrates 1st Anniversary This Week End

One year ago Chas. F. Green purchased the stocks of the C. N. Green stores, organized a sale and disposed of the furniture goods and redecorated the building and entered the grocery business.

The store, one of the finest in central Texas, is this week celebrating its first anniversary. It is going to be a happy occasion for Mr. and Mrs. Green for they have made great progress and plan to thank each one personally who have made their success this first year possible.

Representatives of wholesale firms will be here to distribute free merchandise. Cooper will serve coffee and there will be something to eat for everyone who visits the store.

"We are saying it with bargains on better food products," said Mr. Green. "One year ago we entered business. The people have been generous and kind to us and we greatly appreciate and want to tell everyone personally during this sale just how grateful we are."

J. A. Ely Sees World Series In New York

J. A. Ely of Gause was in New York last week for the World Series between the Giants and Yankees. While there he was guest of his daughter and famous son in law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore.

The Herald editor received and appreciated a card from Mr. Ely who enjoyed his visit to the big city.

Coleman Sweeping Out Stocks in Sale

The sensation of the week in merchandising is the grand clearance of furniture stocks at the Coleman Furniture Company in Cameron.

The sale opens at 9 Friday morning. The store will be closed all day Thursday. Free merchandise is advertised together with give away prizes during certain hours for Friday and Saturday. To fully understand the scope of this selling event the big display in the Herald should be read.

Mr. Coleman has a large stock, in fact too heavy a burden of goods to carry over and they are being swept from the store in a halocust of reduced prices. The reputation of the Coleman store is high grade merchandise but prices are made on these goods as low as prices on cheap furniture. "We stake our reputation on these values," said Mr. Coleman. "I don't know how long the goods will last but we will hand them out as long as possible at these prices."

Green & Boedeker Announce 10 Day Sale This Week

Four car loads of merchandise, says Leland Green of the Green & Boedeker stores are in the floor of the store room for the big ten day selling event announced this week.

"We have unloaded several cars of merchandise especially for this sale," said Mr. Green, "and we believe that we have the greatest bargain offer of the year because advancing prices decree that goods should be higher. We are actually cutting the prices to move these new goods."

In the food store great stacks of merchandise are on display for the selling. In the furniture and hardware stores the same is true. Greater buying power makes the Green & Boedeker stores a big asset to buyers in this section.

The sale announced this week runs through October 23rd. It opens at the store on Thursday morning.

Shirley Temple at Cameron Sunday

Cameron theatre fans have always appreciated Shirley Temple.

Her audiences are always packing the theatre when she comes to town. Here's the best news of the month.

Shirley comes to the Cameron Theatre Sunday in "Heidi" her latest picture. It's a new kind of story of the Swiss Alps and Shirley's role is her best, so say the American critics.

TAYLOR THE INVADER

BY CHAS. M. HICKS

The Cameron Yoemen who were fortunate in the drawing of the district schedule by securing early season games with weak teams, now face the acid test when they play the Taylor Ducks this week end. The experts have picked Belton to win the district honors with Taylor second and Cameron third. If the Yoemen can maintain the "jinx" they have held over the Ducks the past three seasons they should finish in second place, according to the experts. However, the Yoemen scouts believe that it will be nothing short of a miracle for them to defeat Taylor. The Ducks in their game with the Rosbud Panthers showed reserve power seldom found in Class B football and their first team seems to have everything a winning football team needs.

The Yoemen came out of their game with the Granger G-Men without serious injuries and the ailing players should be ready to go Friday night. Coach Wood has ordered light workouts this week and hopes (Turn to page 5)

J. D. Smalley Returns to City

J. D. Smalley, paint and decorating contractor, has returned to Cameron after several weeks absence. He has been in Yazoo City, Mississippi where he had the contract for a new bank building.

F. G. Blake Moves To Cameron

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Blake of Hearne are soon to become residents of Cameron. They have taken the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse James, who recently moved to Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake hope to occupy the home here within the week.

Mr. Blake owns the Coca Cola Bottling Company and has other business interests over the state. Cameron bids these good people a warm welcome.

Johanna Spyri wrote the story. It had to wait years to find one who could so aptly portray its star part. Jean Hersholt is in the picture and there is a splendid supporting cast.

Heidi has been sold in millions of copies and it is on the prescribed reading list of schools all over the world.

So you can make your plans for the Sunday and Monday bill and see Shirley Temple at the Cameron Theatre.

Miss Antonia Anderle Becomes Bride of Richard Jistel At St. Monica's

Miss Antonia Anderle of Salem and Richard Jistel of Marak were married in this city at the St. Monica's church, Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. Rev. George Apel performed the double ring ceremony before a background of Queen's Wreath and fern.

Miss Annie Michalka of Cameron rendered the wedding music.

The brides' attendants and ushers entered the church in couples and took their places at the altar, preceding the bride and groom, who also came in together. Each of the bridesmaids wore frocks of taffeta, with the skirt made on simple lines in front and full in the back, and with dainty buttons down the front of the waist. Miss Louise Jistel of Marak wore pink and was accompanied by Albert Lehnert of Cameron. Blue was the color worn by Miss Rita Schriber of Marak. Alvin Anderle of Ad Hall was her escort. Each of the young women carried bouquets of roses.

The bride was pretty in her bridal dress of white taffeta, floor length, long puffed sleeves with the bodice being caught in front with silver clips. Her veil was of silk tulle, bound to the head with orange blossoms and reaching to the hem line of her skirt in the back. The bride's bouquet was of white asters.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderle at Salem. The couple left late Tuesday afternoon for a honeymoon in Corpus Christi. Upon their return they will make their home at Marak, where the groom is a prosperous young farmer. Both were born and reared in Milam County. He is the son of Fred Jistel of Marak.

Mrs. Jistel attended high school in Cameron. For her going-away costume she wore navy blue with black accessories.

Shrubs at the Front Door

By MARIE MERTZ
San Garbiel 4-H Club

We cannot have pretty shrubs if we do not know when and how to plant them.

Last week, I told you what types of shrubs were good to plant. With this information you should be able to draw a plan suitable for your home. As soon as you have decided definitely what shrubs you want, you are ready to dig the beds. These must be dug at least two weeks before planting time, however, for best results you should begin digging them now so that the soil will be well pulverized by planting time. Make the beds deep and work them enough to keep the soil soft.

The best time to plant shrubs is from the first week of December through the first week in January. They do well if planted any time between November and February, and I have known them to grow well when planted in March, but constant watering was necessary.

To plant a shrub, dig a hole about 30 inches across and 12 inches deep. Place the plant in the hole and shovel a little dirt around the roots. This dirt should be well pulverized so that it can be worked in among the root hairs without breaking them or leaving any air spaces that will let the roots dry out. Now pour lots of water on this dirt. This water will pack the soil firmly around the roots after the water has soaked in the ground, pack the rest of the dirt around the plant. Water this newly planted shrub every week for the next month so it will have plenty of moisture for growth.

Miss Beulah Collier Becomes Bride of Edwin Day

In a pretty wedding marked with simplicity at the First Baptist church, Sunday at 5 p. m., Miss Beulah Collier became the bride of Edwin Day. Rev. Vernon G. Miles, pastor of the local Baptist church, officiated.

The altar of the church was decorated in a bridal motif of tall baskets of light and deep pink Radiances roses and yellow Talisman roses and palms, which formed an artistic setting, where the bride and groom spoke their marriage vows.

Preceding the entrance of the bride and groom, Miss Lelia Lee Batte sang, "At Dawning," with Miss Catherine Monroe playing the piano accompaniment. Lohengrin's Bridal chorus as played for the processional; "Traumerci," during the ceremony and Mendelssohn Wedding March for the recessional.

Miss Collier wore an ankle length frock with the bodice of blue chiffon velvet and the skirt light blue crepe. Her corsage was of yellow Pernet roses and was worn in front at the neckline.

Miss Monroe wore a dress of wine colored velvet, and an off the face, black felt hat. Her corsage was also yellow Pernet roses.

John F. Burns of Austin and Frank Cheeves of Cameron were ushers.

The bride and groom entered the church together. She was lovely in a frock of Wallace blue velvet with hat and accessories to match with touches of copper color. Her arm bouquet was made of President Roosevelt rosebuds. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Clarissa Collier. She is a graduate of the Yoe high school here and also attended State Teachers' College San Marcos. For the past two years, she has been employed with the Cheeves Dry Goods store.

The bride groom is the son of Bill Day of Minerva, but he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Batte since childhood. He graduated from the Yoe high school and received his degree from Southwestern University, Georgetown. At present he is employed in the office of the R. L. Batte oil mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Day left for a honeymoon and upon their return will make their home in the Clark apartment. Mrs. Day wore a traveling suit of black with a gold colored blouse and black accessories. Her corsage of talisman rosebuds added a pretty finishing touch to her costume.

Among those from out of town present at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hearrell, Gladewater; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hefley, Mrs. Beulah Burns and children, Mrs. John Baldwin and Miss Mary Frances Blaylock, Austin.

Correction for Buckholts News

In printing a story of a recent shower given at Hope Lutheran church in Buckholts for Mrs. Theo Fuchs, the name of Mrs. Henry Fuchs one of the hostesses, was omitted through error.

The Herald has a request to make this correction. It was unfortunate because Mrs. Fuchs was one of the number of women who planned the shower. The error occurred in the issue of September 30th. The Herald does not know how this occurred but feels that Mrs. Fuchs is due this correction.

MILANO SCHOOL NEWS

The Milano school closed its first month of work last Friday. Teachers and pupils are becoming more enthusiastic over their work. We wonder if it is because the examinations are in the near future or if it is because the need for wisdom is more pressing each day.

The entire student body looks upon the new vocational building as the "treasure" of the campus. This building consists of two large laboratories to accommodate the agriculture and home economic departments and an attractive living room.

Plans are being made for the Halloween Carnival. Don't fail to see the school parade, Friday afternoon, October 29. Athletic contests are scheduled for Friday afternoon. Friday night there will be a free program at the Milano High School building. Two one act plays are being arranged for by Sandy Creek, Syre Springs and Liberty-Hanover. Plenty of music will be heard, such as group singing and a "fiddler's contest." Booths will be in the campus to furnish your entertainment and give you an opportunity to vote for the candidates for the "queen's" contest.

Saturday night, October 30, a short play will be staged before the coronation of the queen—the highest contestant from the grammar and high school.

The high school classes have organized and elected their sponsors for the year. Each class is looking forward to a year of pleasure and profit. A school paper is being published twice per month by a group of students and sponsors. Subscribe for the paper and find out what is going on at school if you haven't done so.

Yoemen

to be able to get a "pot-shot" at the Ducks.

This game is expected to draw the biggest crowd of the year to the Yoemen field. An added feature will be the colorful and spectacular stunts put on by the bands and pep squads of the two schools between halves. Taylor fans have been following their team in large numbers this year and no doubt a capacity crowd will be present in Cameron on Friday night.
